INVITATION

Dear Participants!

The People Event takes immense pleasure & feel honored in inviting the contributors across the globe to “2nd World Conference on Climate Change & Sustainability” to be held during October 16-18, 2023 at Rome, Italy.

The Climate Week 2023 is an annual event where scientists, business experts, governments professionals and stakeholders from various sectors discuss the diverse facets of climate change and its relationship to sustainability and global warming. In this sense, the Climate Week 2023 strives to go beyond science and build bridges between the state-of-the-art in multiple disciplines and different groups of stakeholders and practitioners. Climate Week 2023 aims to provide a platform for discussions on climate and sustainability societies, by creating a stimulating environment that produces innovative ideas and clear pathways towards their implementation.

We invite senior leaders of of academic organizations, business, government, and civil society to gather in-person and join us in our mission to accelerate climate action, fast. Across the three days you're invited to join a variety of networking and interactive sessions; from open discussions and debates to closed door roundtables, collaborative workshops and networking receptions. To mark this year's Climate Week, we're asking individuals, businesses and communities up and down the country to put climate change at the top of the conversation list. Climate Week 2023 is an opportunity to exchange ideas, share successes, and create collaborations that are going to drive more climate action. Connection with peers at other environmental and conservation organizations, business, policy, and philanthropy sectors can spur innovation and most importantly action. It brings together influential global leaders from business, government, and climate communities to discuss opportunities and challenges in climate action.

We hope this conference will play an important role in providing a platform in 2023 to exchange views and ideas on the theme that climate change & sustainability should be for all.

We wish to see you at Rome, Italy

ABOUT ROME ITALY

Rome is a sprawling, cosmopolitan city with nearly 3,000 years of globally influential art, architecture and culture on display. In 2005, the city received 19.5 million global visitors, up of 22.1% from 2001. The “Eternal City,” brims with ancient history, from the Colosseum to the port of Ostia Antica to majestic Vatican City and the Sistine Chapel. Rome is known mainly for Colosseum. Colosseum is one of the Seven Wonders of the World. It is a Flavius amphitheater which was started by Emperor Vespasian in 80A.D. Because of its history, art, architecture, and beauty – and perhaps its gelato and pasta! – Rome is one of our most popular cities. It is the capital of Italy, as well as one of the best-known cities in the world, so large companies choose it as a venue for numerous business events and meetings in all sectors such as pharmaceuticals, electronics, etc.
